

RECEIVED

By Michelle Cilley at 2:36 pm, Apr 29, 2024

Hi Michelle,

This will be my second time seeking a variance approval for my carport that is currently installed directly on top of my driveway. There have been no changes have been proposed or made from the expired variance. I received approval after the first zoning board review (included in your packet) and thought that was all I needed to proceed with the build. During the first meeting the chairperson asked me if I needed a permit for the build and I answered in the negative and no one corrected that line of thinking so this is what lead me to believe I was all set to proceed. After it was discovered that I never received a build permit for the carport I was informed that I needed to start the process over again because the first variance had expired even though I had the carport installed while the first variance was active.

Geodi Pellerin

Finance Manager

Phone 978-965-4500

Mobile 774-258-1627

Web www.capexservices.com

Email geodi.pellerin@capexservices.com